Introduction of Hangzhou

Hangzhou, which located in Zhejiang province of China, is a city of a thousand-year-long history and profound culture. With the fascinating richness in its culture, Hangzhou is just like a classic book about history and culture. From the Kuahu Bridge Culture 8000 years ago to the Liangzhu Culture 5000 years ago, and from the Wu Yue Culture to the Southern Song Dynasty Culture, Hangzhou has the tradition to pass the torch of the culture. Hangzhou boasts a cradle of brilliant talents in history, an inheritance of splendid cultural veins and invaluable cultural relics.

Hangzhou is a city perfectly embellished with mountains and rivers. The world is always captivated with Hangzhou's natural beauty like a scroll of beautiful landscape. There are the charming West Lake, the marvelous Qianjiang tidal waves, the crystal clear Fuchun River, the mysterious Thousand Islands Lake, the busy Grand Canal with hundreds of ships sailing, and the graceful Xixi Wetland. The uncanny craftsmanship of nature endows Hangzhou with its beauty of nature, delicacy and elegance.

A city pioneering in entrepreneurship and innovation. Like a paean to the times, Hangzhou is highly admired for its innovation and vitality. It is often said that Hangzhou is a paradise for entrepreneurship and innovation. Her pioneering sprits of entrepreneurship and innovation have fostered world famous enterprises like Alibaba, forged specialized townships that lead the industries, and attracted ambitious makers from both home and abroad, all of which constitutes a chain of innovation-driven development.

Hangzhou is a hub of the region that can go to any place in all directions. Hangzhou is located in the center of Yangtze River Delta with convenient transport. It only takes an hour by high-speed train to arrive in Shanghai. Moreover, Hangzhou Xiaoshan International Airport is linked to many major cities in the world. The rail transit system is also undergoing rapid development. It is expected that by 2021, Hangzhou will have embraced ten subway lines and two inter-city light rail lines and will have finished the construction of the 446-kilometer railway transportation system, significantly improving the quality of life for those who work and live in Hangzhou.
